Unconventional Tour: Making Waves 2008 in Bloomington

October 21-23, something unconventional is coming to Bloomington, Indiana.

The Unconventional Tour: Making Waves 2008, will feature a film showing at the Bloomington Public Library on Tuesday, October 21, and some great new political music from The Away Team plus Carlyn Lindsey & SnakeDoctor at Players Pub, on Thursday, October 23.

Films include award winning documentary "Electile Dysfunction" and "9/11 Dust and Deceit" directed by Penny Little and Q and A with the filmmaker.

The PTPTV crew include Penny Little, Nik Green, and Dawn Perrine -- making their way from California, to Albuquerque, Austin, Tulsa, Little Rock, St. Louis, Bloomington, and Chicago. Inviting local musicians and special guest speakers is a feature of the tour, making each event different, unconventional and shaped by local input. Dan Withered will be joining in the tour in Bloomington, sitting in with "SnakeDoctor".

Penny Little, Coordinating Director of People to People TV, who is spearheading the Unconventional Tour says, "This is not just a tour. We are filming the entire event. There will be a Free Speech contest during intermission, judged by clap-o-meter. We want to inspire and mobilize people to get involved in the political process -- whether it's voting, boycotting, campaigning, becoming the media, demonstrating, running for office, doing something. We want to put the party back into politics!"

Penny Little and Nik Green are musicians/performers, each coming from corporate record labels, joined together to form the electronic duo - The Away Team. Nik worked with Roy Harper and Jimmy Page on a project after the demise of Led Zeppelin, and is a film composer, having scored several films, including "9/11 Dust and Deceit" "Electile Dysfunction", "JFK II, (by John Hankey) - and many others, Penny was signed to Warner/Chappell in the UK and has toured the US, Japan, Europe as a singer songwriter. Her documentary films have played to packed houses in Europe, Australia, Japan, and the US. Dawn Perrine, a filmmaker in her own right, has been part of this People to People TV entourage since 2003.
